MIRAGE

The Class of 1964 will always be remembered as the first class to graduate from the new senior high school. I hope you are always proud of this fact. You have shared in the beginnings of a new and expanded high school program which will benefit the many students who will follow you through the halls of Lancaster High School.

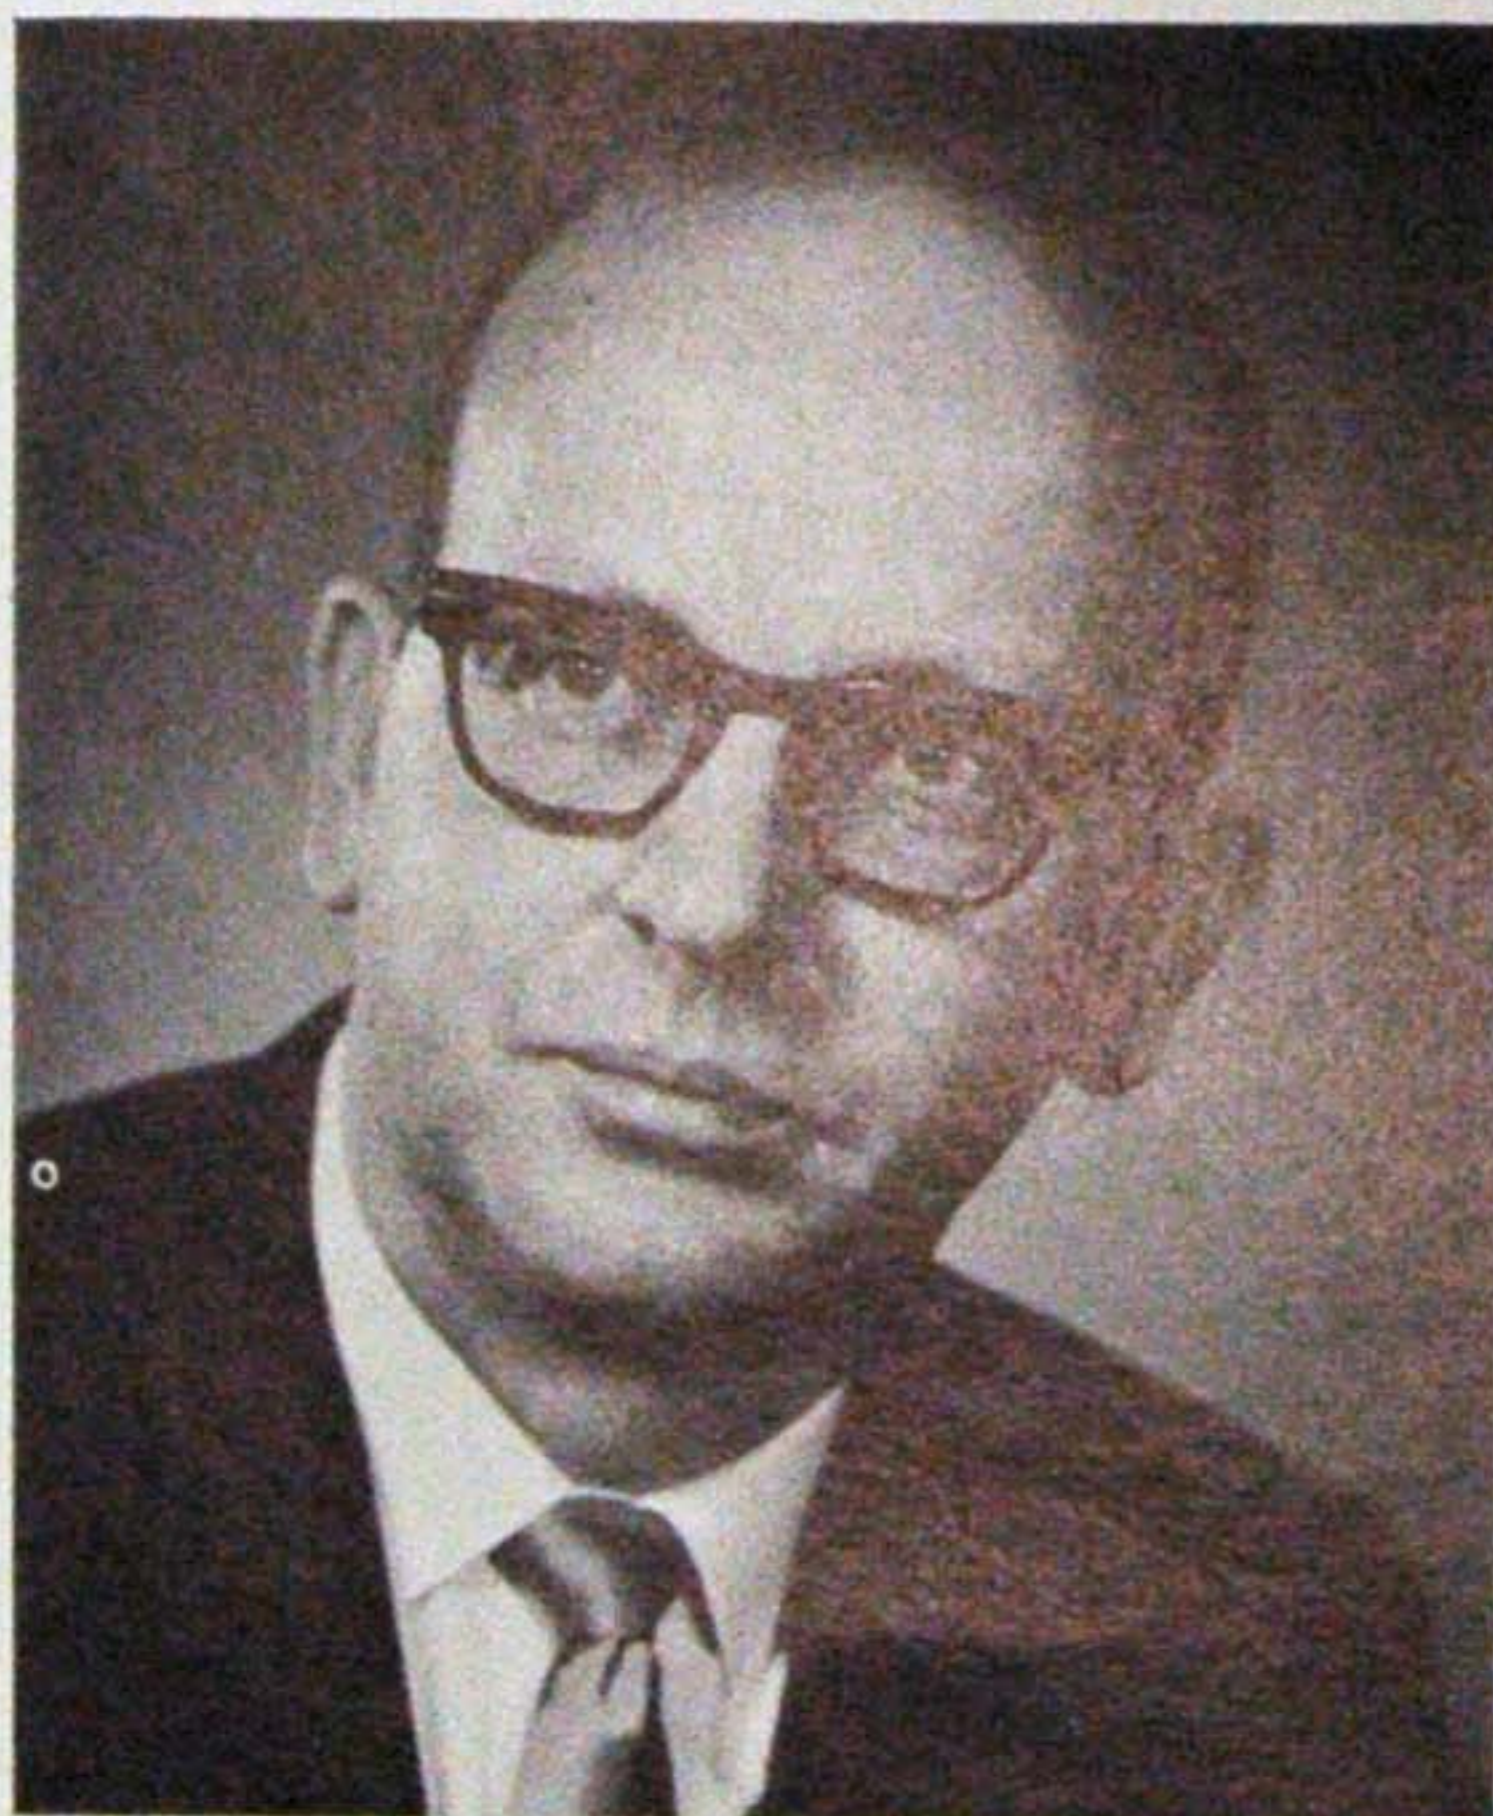

I sincerely hope that the new high school will be symbolic of the new, wider horizons facing you in the future. As with all promises, these wider opportunities will only become realities through hard work and perseverance. Each of you leaves with a high level of potential which can be turned to creating a bright, promising future for yourself and others.

I would like to ask each of you to pause a moment to consider the real meaning of graduation. Rather than being an ending it is, in reality, a beginning. Your future with its bright promises, opportunities, happiness and successes stretches before you. The real work and meaning of life lies before you, not behind you. While your past school years required work, dedication, and in some cases sacrifices, the future is even more demanding.

You are entering the adult world at a time of rapid change and at a time of crisis. Old established institutions and ways of doing things are rapidly giving way to new ideas and procedures. You will have many opportunities to affect the direction of these changes both in the direction of the desirable as well as the undesirable. I hope your years at Lancaster High School will stand you in good stead in facing these new challenges.

To each of you, I extend my personal congratulations on your successes in school and my warmest wishes for happiness and success in the future.
