

The problems of the administration were many on snowy days like this!

Sophomore Latin students declined countless nouns.

We adjusted to a new environment...

Classroom tables waited silently for the first onrush of students to come in the fall.